Report by Roy Wanta

On November 1st in 2016, Lisa Wanta, Doug Christie and I flew to Ghana again for two weeks. It was good to see our friends again. We had a chance to visit with our widows and hold meetings with them. We have been reviewing some of the challenges that they are facing this year to see how we will be able to help. We were able to help some of the widows start their own business and they are succeeding.

A very important event that the widows look forward to each time we come is to receive reading glasses. Who would think that eyeglasses from a dollar store would be such a big event! They are so excited and just waiting for them when we come. The word had spread that each time when we come we bring reading glasses, and they look forward to our arrival.

We had been fortunate to actually spend time with Esther and see her preparing her land to raise her crops.

“Now this I say, he who sows sparingly, will reap sparingly, and he who sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Each one does just as he has purposed in his heart, not grudgingly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver and God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that always having all sufficiency in everything, you may have an abundance, for every good deed. As it is written: HE SCATTERED ABROAD, AND HE GAVE TO THE POOR; HIS RIGHTEOUSNESS FOREVER. Now he who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food will supply, and multiply your seed for sowing, and increase the harvest of your righteousness; you will be enriched in everything, for all liberality, which through us is producing thanksgiving to God.” – II Corinthians 9:6-11

We are happy to tell of you about the continuation of the work in Nigeria. We were able to purchase a cassava grinding machine for the widows group in Simon's village and put a building up to house it. The cost of living has gone extremely high in the last couple of months. This business will help the widows maintain livelihood.

“The Lord is my strength and my shield;
My heart trusted in Him, and I am helped;
Therefore my heart greatly rejoices,
And with my song I will praise Him.” – Psalms 28:7
